THE NORTHERN LIGHTS

STEARNS HIGH SCHOOL

Millinocket, Maine

1966

Sept. 6 — Back to school! The class of '66 finds itself at the beginning of the end. Old friends and new join together for all the fun excitement, and hard work of the coming year.

The first announcement to be blared from the office over the P.A. system was that Mrs. C. would be meeting with all budding literary geniuses to form a yearbook staff. The first order to be handled by this hand-picked group was the decision to dedicate the 1966 book to the "Rhythm King" of Stearns, Mr. Russell Byron.

Right on the heels of this came try-outs for the senior play, and football practices, and choosing class officers, etc., etc.!

Summer is over!

Guess it's not really so bad. The school shines from the T.L.C. given it this summer by the custodians. In fact, we truly have an impressive high school. Best in the state. Only one trouble — the teachers are all fired up from summer school and vacation. Think they're going to inspire us to become Einsteins and Hemingways! Oh well, we'll soon calm them down.

Lots of shiny new faces on the staff. Seems a shame that they have to lose all those great expectations.

Its great to see the shiny new faces from St. Martins. Hope they like us here at Stearns. Nice to have new talents and personalities.

We dedicate our yearbook to a man who dedicates himself to the school and to the students

Our Guidance Director, Mr. Byron, is a man of many talents--all of them at helping the students of Stearns High School.

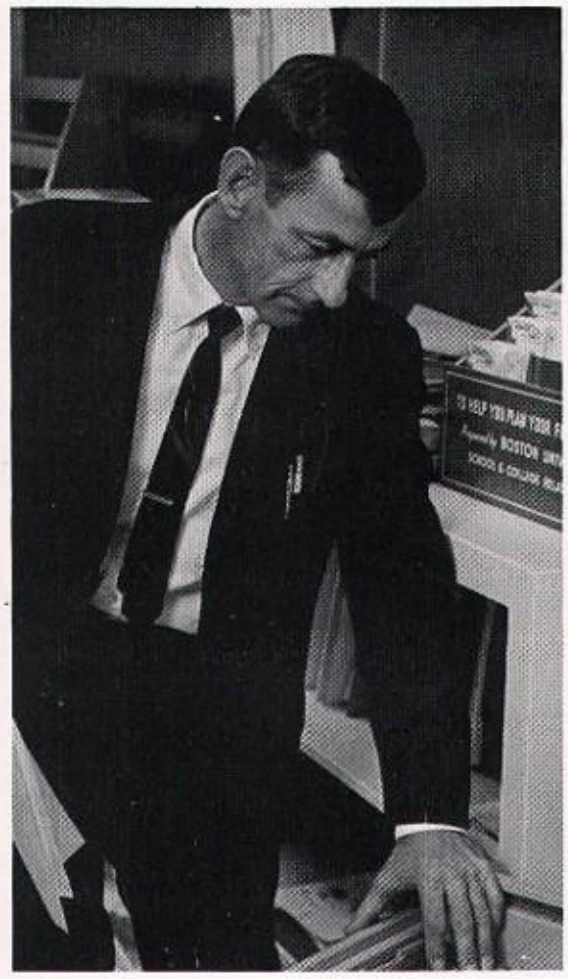
He gives unstintingly of his time and effort to help each pupil find the right course for his particular needs. An experienced drummer, Russ finds time to help out the school dance band if its drummer is absent; he helps with the tremendous job of selling tickets for the popular Stearns basketball games; and always he is ready to help anyone in the school or in the town in any way he can.

Perhaps his greatest asset is his encouraging sense of humor, one that has helped many a sad sack see the funny side of his "desperate situation."

Thank you, Mr. Byron, for all you've done for us through the years.

I know it looks bad, but . . .

Let me check your file.



See, it wasn't bad, was it?

Superintendent WILLIAM W. HALE

Principal N. ALLEN SAVAGE

That Stearns High School has been able to accelerate its program to keep pace with modern times is due mainly to the wisdom and farsightedness of the two men pictured on this page.

Mr. Hale has insisted on the finest teachers and the best equipment available. Our principal, Mr. Savage, runs the school with a firm but understanding hand.

Our thanks to you both for the opportunities you are giving us.

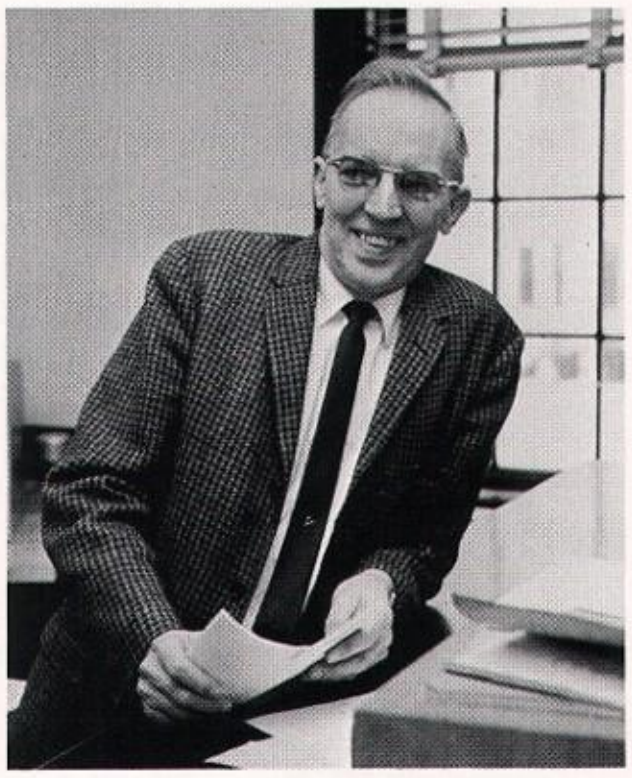
MRS. CRAWFORD
Secretary to Mr. Hale

MRS. CHENEY
Secretary to Mr. Hale

MRS. WRIGHT
Secretary to Mr. Savage

MRS. BERTRAND
Secretary to Mr. Byron

Business Department



LAROY DERBY

Mr. Derby, our Submaster, does many things in the school besides teaching. He handles the printing of "Snoops and Scoops," prints all the school programs, does work for various organizations in the town, and keeps all the typewriters and other office machines in the system repaired and running.

Mr. Patten is a man of many interests. "Doc" is very active in sports of all kinds; he can fix a radio, fly a plane, or keep a car running, and he is very effective in quieting the students in the corridors.

FREDERICK PATTEN

GERALD GOSS

Mr. Goss, always relaxed and jovial, teaches several courses in the Business Department and acts as assistant coach to our football team. On weekends "Jake" can be found skimming down the slopes at Squaw. We've been told that much of the laughter issuing from the teachers' room during the noon hour is caused by Jake's quips.

"Eyes on your books!" "Move your carriage when you erase." Famous quotes from Mrs. Cook, shorthand and typing teacher, and advisor of the NORTHERN LIGHTS.

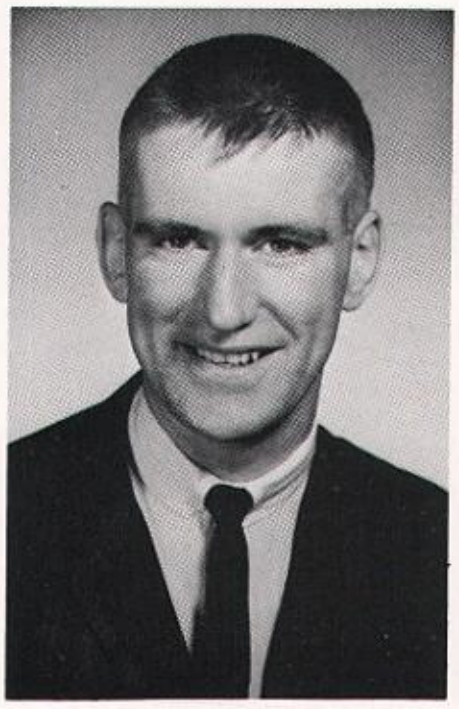
SHIRLEY COOK

English Department

Miss Owen, an excellent English teacher, initiates sophomores into the intracacies of high school English. Miss Owen coordinates the publication of "Snoops and Scoops"

CLARA OWEN

A hometown boy, Terry coaches Freshman Basketball, bowls, plays volleyball, and drives a sporty Mustang.



TERRENCE DAIGLE

BONNIE HELMS

Although hers was a new face on the Stearns' faculty, Miss Helms contribution to the English department was quickly recognized and appreciated by all her students. Her knowledge of fine plays and good literature has instilled in the students of Stearns an appreciation of the finest the English language has to offer. We, the fans of Will Shakespeare, salute you!

Miss Renski is one of our newest and youngest faculty members. As a member of the English department, she has displayed a fresh, young approach with enthusiasm.

CYNTHIA RENSKI

Foreign Languages

ROSEMARY RILEY

We at Stearns are very fortunate to have a teacher with Miss Riley's experience and ability. A former student at La Sorbonne, Paris, France, Miss Riley brings the true flavor of the French language to her classroom.

A young teacher with the poise of a pro and a thorough knowledge of Spanish, Miss Boutelle's presence would improve the quality of the language department in any school.

MARCIA BOUTELLE

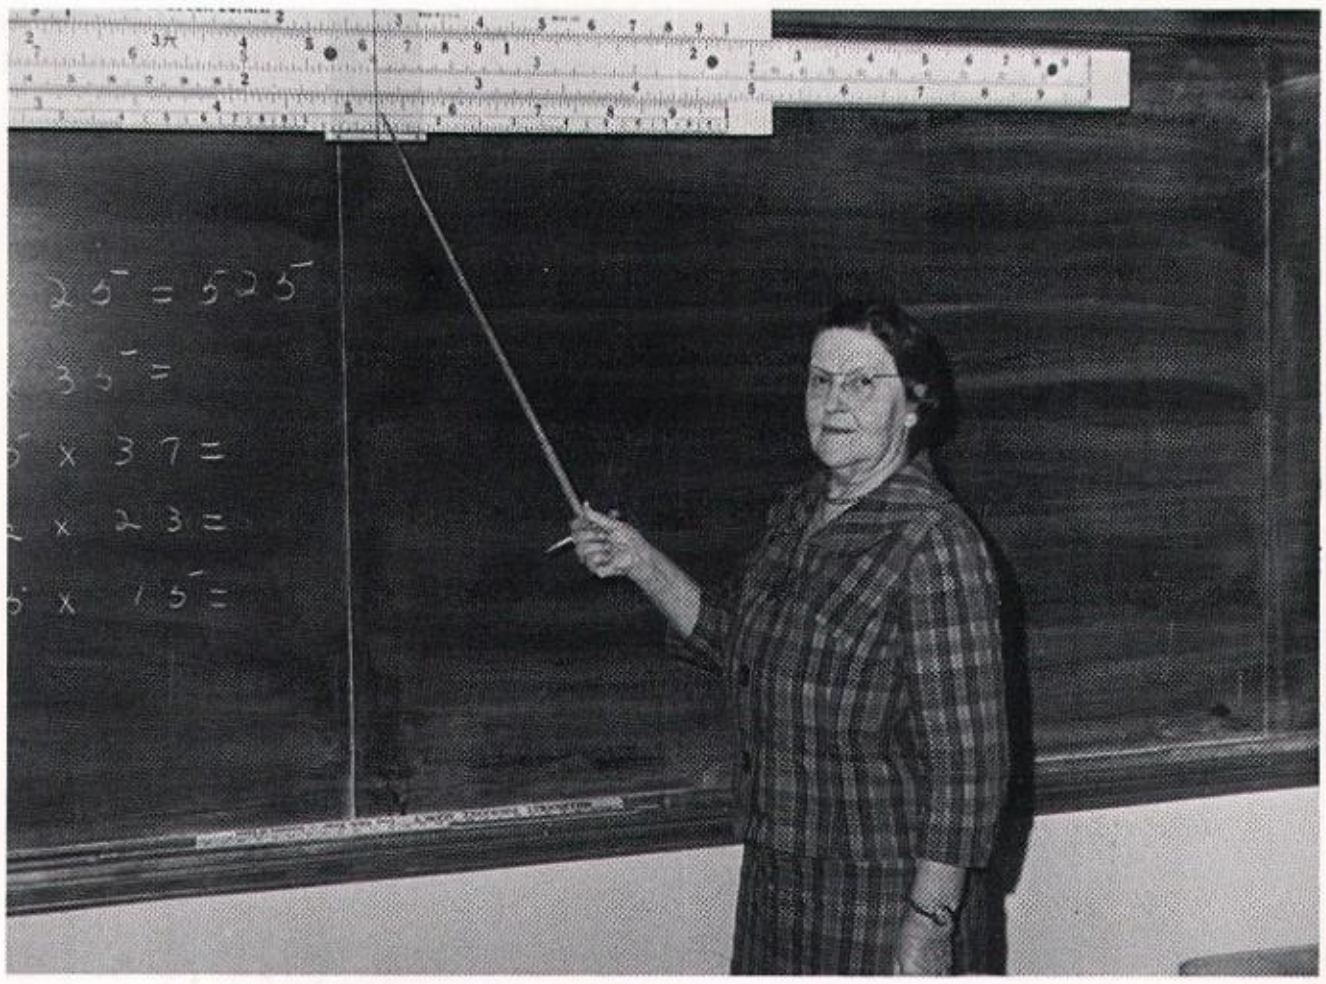
Home Economics Department

RENA ALLEN

Miss Allen is partly responsible for our having so many well dressed girls in school. She and Miss Ziko, the other member of the department, have done much to teach their students the fundamentals of good home-making. They supervise an active FHA. They also furnish delicious lunches for the Teachers' Meetings.

ANNA ZIKO

Mathematics Department



ELIZABETH GRIFFIN

Think of a synonym for high standards, for excellent teaching, for love of young people, for years of dedicated service. Think of a synonym for Stearns. That's it--Miss Griffin.

Both Miss Griffin and Mrs. Byther are devoted teachers, spending long hours helping their math students and helping the seniors earn money for graduation.

Mrs. Byther also handles the advertising and financing for the school yearbook.

HELEN BYTHER

Music Department

WENDALL TOMPKINS

Our Music Department improves each year. Mr. Tompkins, the head of the department, has helped the band a great deal in improving the quality of the music. Many ardent basketball fans have spoken flatteringly of how much the band adds to the games.

Our pert Miss Barnes has somehow interested both boys and girls in singing. The chorus is certainly a credit to Miss Barnes and the school.

A newcomer to Millinocket, Mr. Tufts is director of the Junior High Band. He contributes to Stearns music, though, by helping the stage band.

JOSEPH TUFTS

BRENDA BARNES

Physical Education

Mr. Basketball of Maine--that's our coach and boys' Phys. Ed. teacher. Coach Wentworth manages year after year to build championship basketball teams that break all records.

One of the busiest people at Stearns, Mrs. Blake organizes the cheerleaders, the girls' bowling, basketball, and volleyball teams, and various other activities, besides her daily routine of teaching girls' physical education.

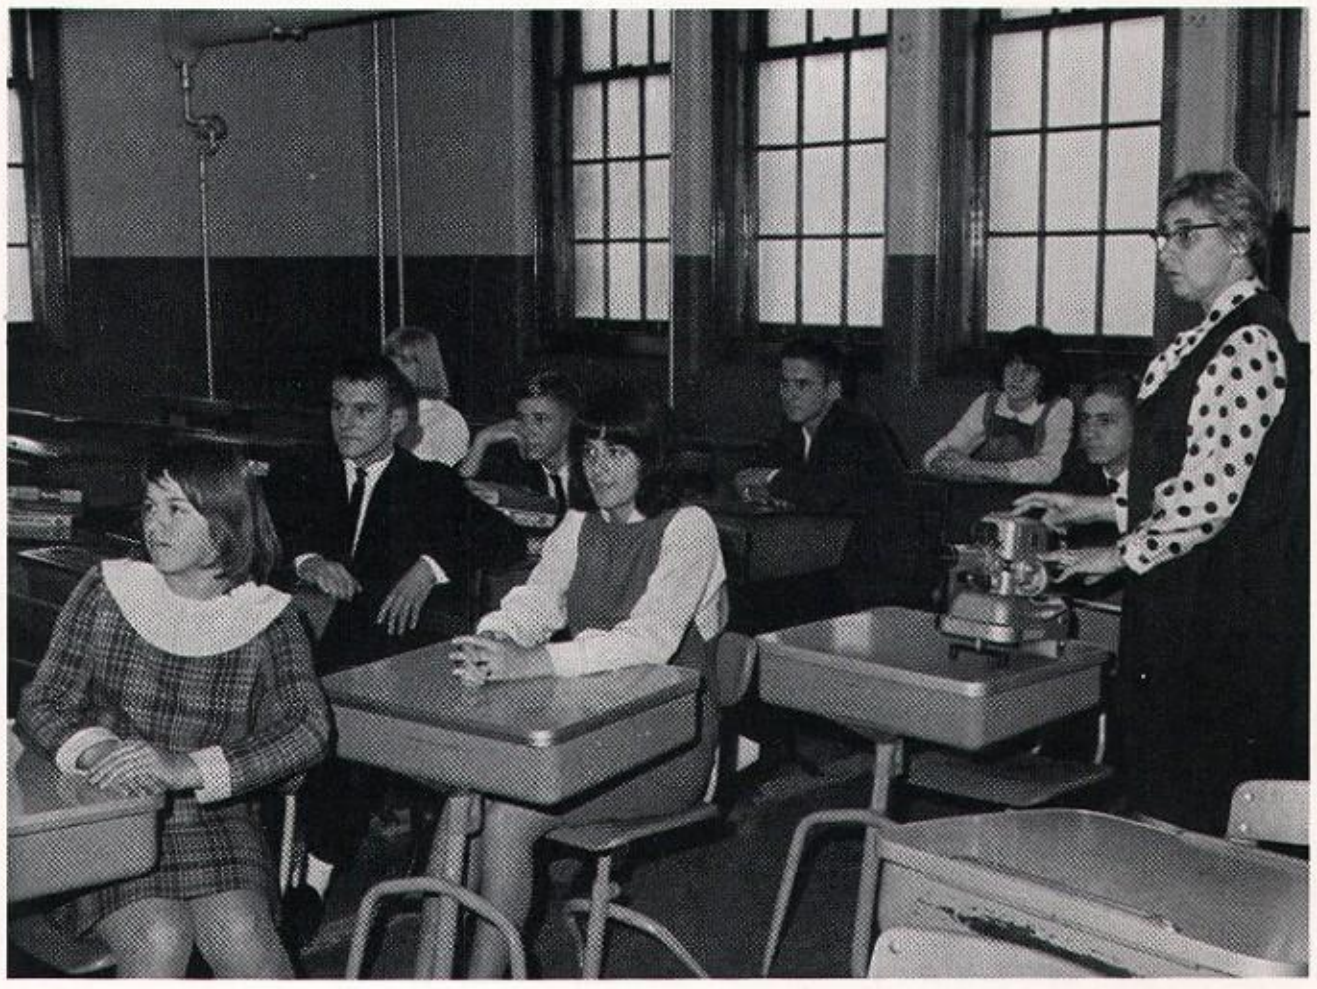
Our Phys. Ed. teachers do more than build physical fitness. They build character, sportsmanship, and a sense of fair play into all the students.

GEORGE WENTWORTH

HELEN BLAKE

Reading and Speech

HARRIET KRONHOLM



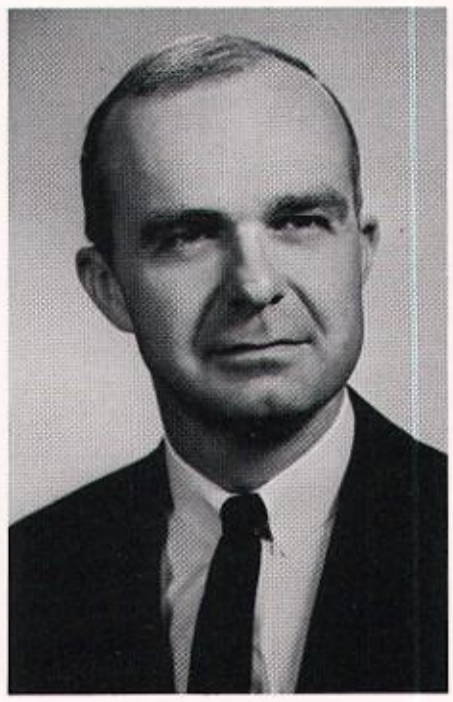
Mrs. Kronholm makes reading a delight for any student. With her infectious grin and ready understanding, she gives us all a lift. Mrs. Kronholm is advisor to FTA.

Miss Higgins, our speech teacher and dramatics coach, has done much to interest the young people in the school in dramatics. Under her direction the speech department has grown by leaps and bounds.

JOYCE HIGGINS

Science Department

Mr. Hopkins has proved himself to be an outstanding teacher in his field. He has helped to stimulate scientific interest in all of his students, whose entries in the Science Fair are invariably successful. He and his attractive wife are always willing chaperones at our proms, as you can see in the picture to the right.



ARNOLD HOPKINS

Biology is his specialty. There is no problem he can't solve, no question he can't answer. A joke and a smile for everyone make Mr. Wentworth one of the most popular teachers at Stearns.

RALPH WENTWORTH

Social Studies

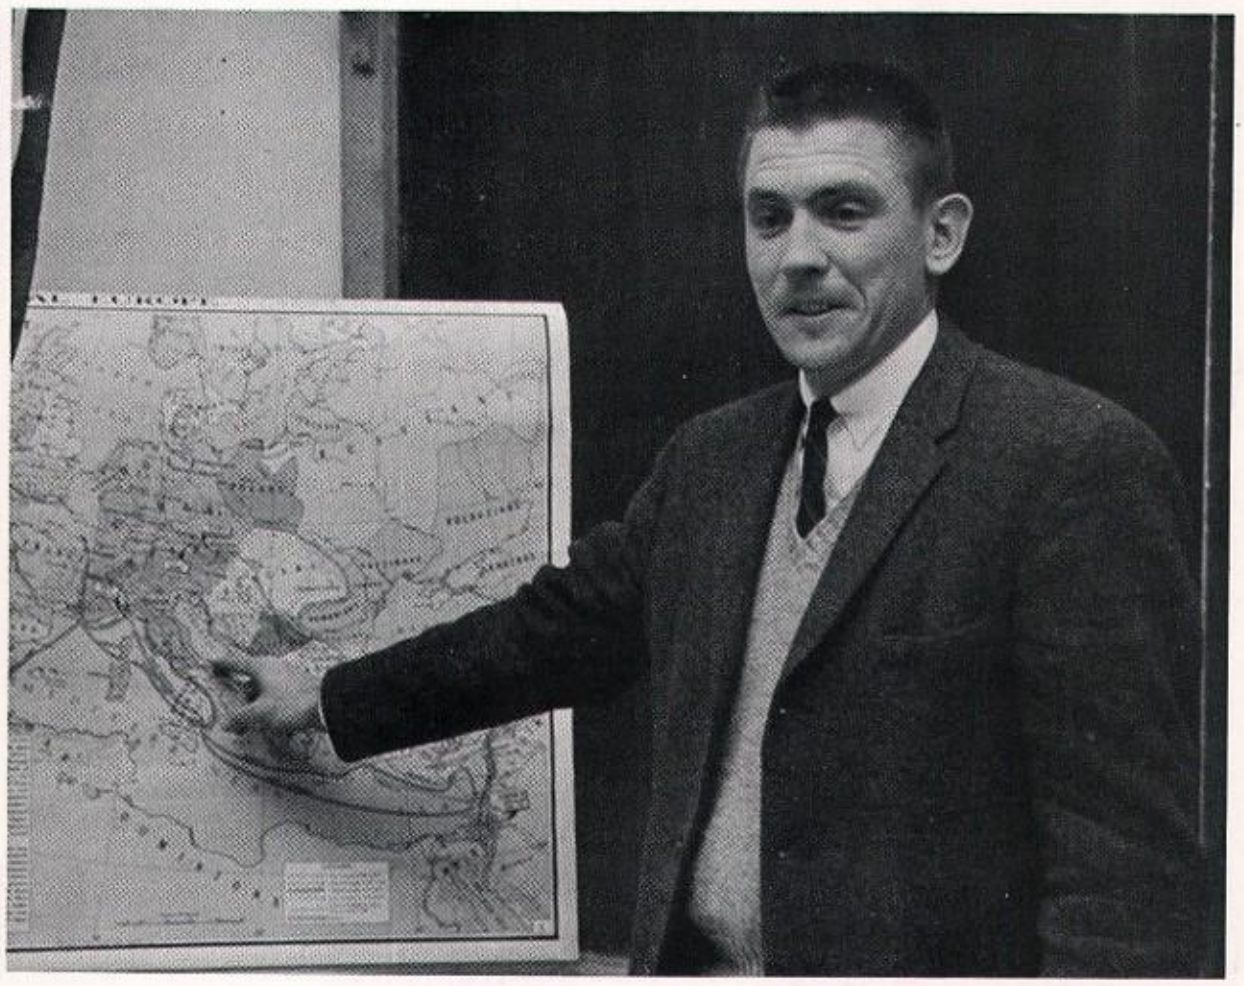
WALLACE DELAHANTY

Mr. Delahanty's years at Stearns speak for themselves. In almost any undertaking of the school and of the town, Wally can be counted on to help. His extensive knowledge makes history one of the most interesting subjects in the school.

Mr. Niles, another newcomer to the school, teaches social studies and helps in the dramatic productions in the school.

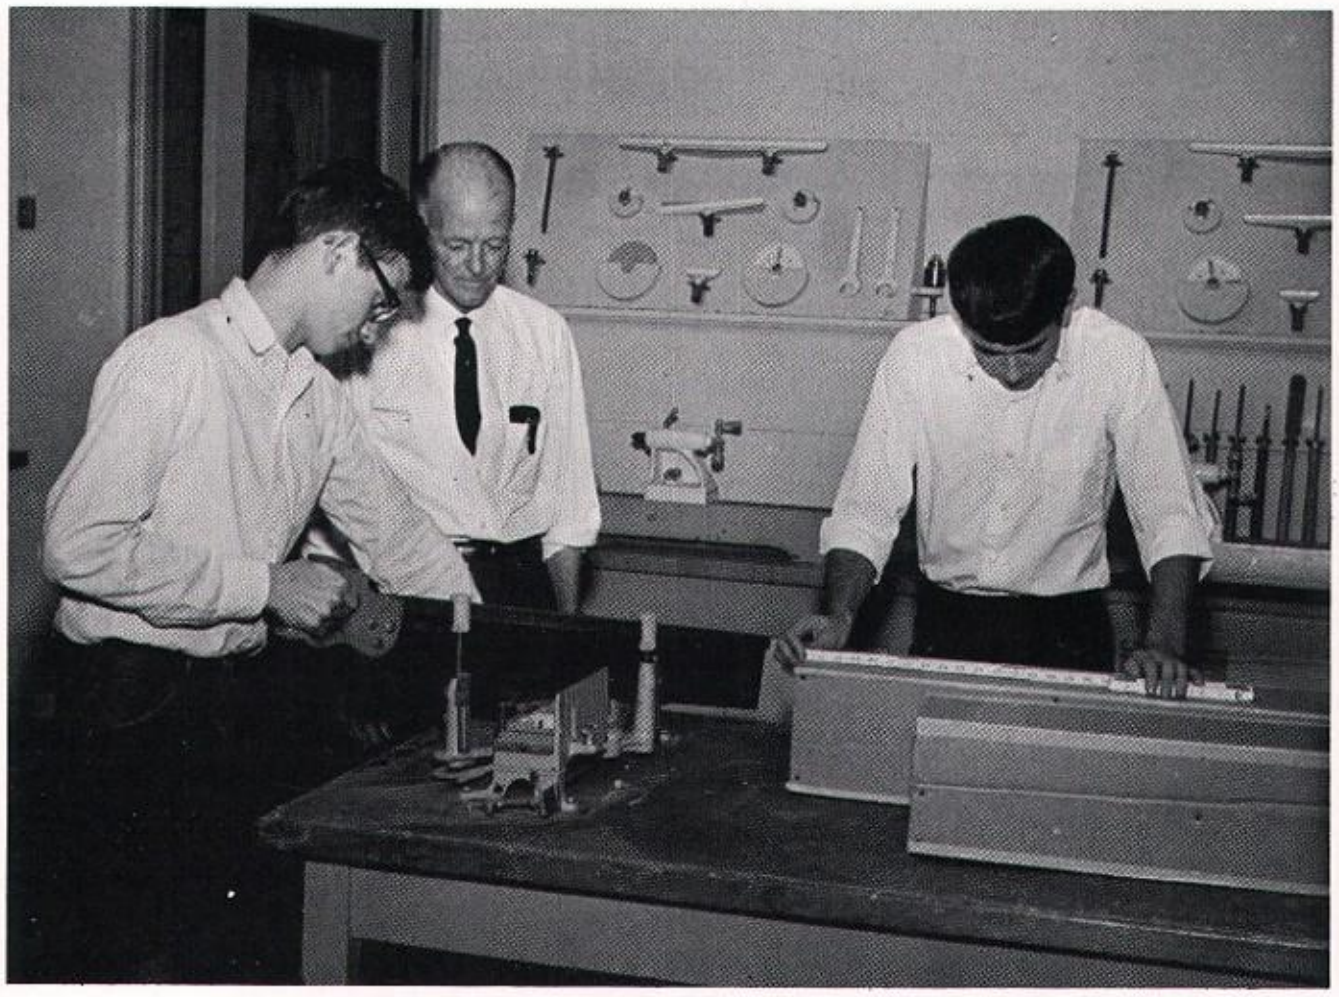
Mr. McCourt, social studies teacher, is also the man who coaches our football team to its second championship year. This winter he is busy outside of school with the ski team.

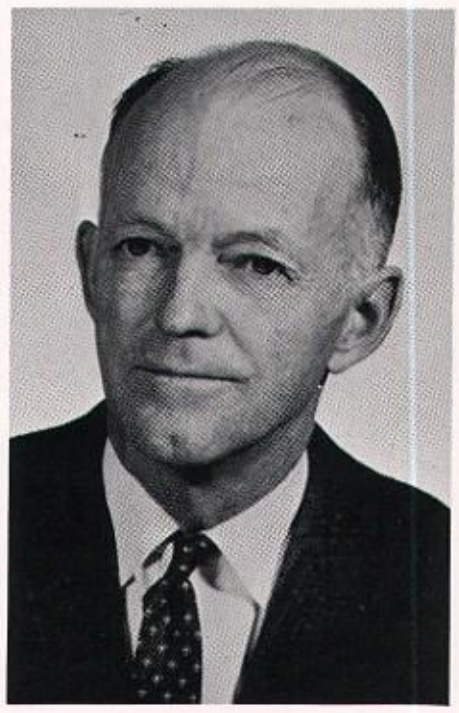
RICHARD NILES



PAUL McCOURT

Industrial Arts





ELI BUCK

Mr. Buck's activities are many, He handles the sale of the basketball tickets, builds props for play, designs and builds the sets for all proms held in the school, and teaches adult classes. His devotion to the school is evident in his many activities.

We've noticed a spruced-up look about the boys in the mechanical drawing classes. Could it be because of the lady with the twinkling brown eyes we see swinging down the corridors?

VERA CLEAVES

ROBERT KRACH

To add spice to our staff, we have a retired sailor, Mr. Krach, who entered the teaching field after many years in the U. S. Navy. Mr. Krach, like any sailor worth his salt, has a wealth of stories of far-away places.

Nurse

Mrs. Hall is the head of the Health and Welfare Department of Stearns and other schools in the town.

Librarian

Mrs. Derby, our soft-spoken librarian, is always ready to help us all. She must be the one of whom the saying "service with a smile" was written.

Stearns High is, we think, one of the best looking high schools in the state. We're proud of its appearance. The men pictured on this page and the two night custodians, Weldon Astle and Eben Gulliver, are responsible for its good repair and its cleanliness.

Rogues Gallery - Three years ago it seemed that there was all the time in the world to accomplish wonders. All of a sudden there's no time at all. Comes the dawn of truth teachers and parents have been preaching for centuries. — Have we enough credits to graduate? Have we cooperated so the teachers will want to recommend us? Are college boards really that important? College or the service? Marriage or a career? Decisions!

Life begins to seem a bit frightening. Each year who turns off the alarm and rolls us out of bed? Who tells us when to be in at night? From now on we're on our own. That the school, the teachers, and our parents have tried to instill in us will now be put to the test. Have we the guts to become real men and women? It's up to us. No more excuses because we're in high school and so young. Let's make the class of 1966 the outstanding alumni of Stearns!

In November the Senior Class, aided and abetted (screamed at and threatened?) by Miss Higgins, presented one of the most ambitious programs ever undertaken by Stearns, or any other high school.

Our interpretation of Shaw's Caesar and Cleopatra was, if we may be immodest, terrific! The same adjective may be applied to our stars, Jane and Michael, and also to Mark, Joyce, and . . . really, to the whole cast.

It is amazing that so many -- 44 in the cast and even more in the production staff -- could produce such a smooth performance when all the work and preparation was done after school hours.

A great deal of work went into the scenery, the costumes, the music, the make up, and, of course, the lines.

Our thanks in particular to Miss Higgins for her confidence in our abilities and for her ability to make us perform, to Nancy Watson for the music she composed which did so much to set the mood for the play, and to the artists, Jeff Cole, Dianna Tinkham, and Terry Hamm for the realistic scenery. Of course, none of this would have been possible without the work of Mr. Buck and his boys and the girls who did such a great job on the costumes and make up.

All in all, it was a great play!

The Junior Class did itself credit this fall by having one of the nicest Junior Proms we've seen in years. The theme was "Some Enchanted Evening," and the whole wonderful evening certainly was that.

The hopes of Stearns teams are bright. There are so many good athletes in the sophomore and junior grades.

The sophomores have more to brag about than their physical fitness. Their mental ability is outstanding, too.

Six members of this class were elected probationary members of the National Honor Society - Cheryl Desjardins, Ann Fairley, Terry Given, Jill Appoliti, Peter Appoliti, and Mary Lou White.

With the help of Mr. Delahanty in organizing the dance, and of Mr. Buck in decorating, the Junior Class held a very successful prom during November.

The theme of the dance was "Some Enchanted Evening," and the auditorium was decorated beautifully to set the mood for the occasion.

Sports — Stearns has a
Once again Stearns has a record to be envied by all red-blooded American boys.
Basketball, football, baseball — Stearns is the greatest.
Coach McCourt proved himself more than adequate in his first year here. The football team and ski teams both benefited from his help.
Mrs. Blake's G.A.A. provided archery, bowling, volleyball, basketball, and badminton. Something for everyone.
We're sorry a picture of the golf team isn't available. This is a fine sport.
Need we say anything about Coach Wentworth? Never has a coach set such a record in basketball. Just goes to show what real effort and determination can do.

The girls on this page are mong the hardest-working citizens of Stearns High School. Aspirants to this group may think it's all fun and spot light, but they are wrong. There are hours and hours of practice when there is nobody cheering or applauding.

Much of the success of our very successful basketball and football teams must be attributed to this find group.

For the second consecutive year, Stearns smashed its way to the top of the Little Ten Conference heap. Highlighted by a strong defense, the Minutemen held their opponents to only 44 points while they accumulated 154 points. They ended the season with a 7-1 record.

Much credit belongs to the fine coaching staff of Mr. Goss, Mr. Tucker, and head coach, Mr. McCourt.

lose,

fair weather or foul, the boys are always ready for another game. After a short time to rest, the challenge of the game--the need for physical fitness, mental alertness, and team work--draw the team back to prove to themselves and the opposing players that Stearns' athletic teams always provide a good game.

81 Consecutive wins in Eastern Maine competition!

Pretty impressive record for even a pro team. For its fourth straight year, the Stearns Minutemen went into the Eastern Maine Tournament with an undefeated record. This year, however, John Bapst stopped this almost unbelievable streak of wins.

The town and the school are justly proud of the team.

With all the activities available to the students, it's surprising we have time for school works at all.

For instance: F.H.A. - Initiations, District Convention, Xmas party, suppers, Mother - Daughter Teas, dances. Band - exchange concerts, All-State, Music Festival, games, fall - Xmas - spring concerts. Debate - trips to New Hampshire University, University of Maine, Bates College. F.T.A. - Convention in Scarboro, work with the grades. Northern Lights — deadline after deadline. Glee Club, Snoops and Scoops, Thespians, Student Council, ———

And heavens knows how many others. Can you imagine what it would be like not to have three different meetings — all on Monday — all at 3 p.m.?!

Debate

SEATED: S. MacDonald, Desjardin, Boyd
STANDING: E. Ellis, Astle, M. Montgomery, Given, Shinners

The debate team, coached by Miss Higgins, has had a very successful year. The staff wishes to congratulate the members on their fine showings at the University of Maine. One team made the quarter-finals, and another made the octi-finals.

Good luck in the Bates League Tournament.

EXTRA! EXTRA! Read all about it!

Our newspaper, under the able supervision of Miss Owen and Mr. Derby, keeps us up on the latest gossip and fashions, and informs us of all the activities of the school. This year Miss Cleaves and her boys designed very attractive covers for the issues.

Roberta Pinette is the editor and David Illingworth is her assistant. It is our opinion that they have done an unusually good job in their selection of stories and articles this year.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization which helps young women become better citizens at home, at school, and in the community, both now and in the future.

The FHA Club is sponsored by Miss Rena Allen and Miss Anna Ziko, who manage to keep the girls busy and happy.

A visitor at one of the meetings this year said she'd never seen a group have so much fun at a club meeting.

The National Honor Society, under the auspices of Miss Elizabeth Griffin, is a national high school organization designed to promote scholarship, leadership, character, and service in high school students.

Student Council

The Student Council is composed of the presidents of all homerooms and the Senior Class president. It is responsible for organizing assemblies, rallies, and school dances. (We've heard a wild rumor that the Council has been investigating prices with various printers. The handbook maybe?)

ROW 1: L. Bouchard, Trainor, Ass't. Treas., Harrison, Treas., M. Morse, V. Pres., Snow, Pres., B. Currie, Sec., Mr. Byron ROW 2: S. Kelleher, White, Robinson, M. Civiello, C. Allen, Morey, M. Cheney, Noyes, Laverty, McCafferty, Bears, Hikel.

It's over - at least for us seniors. The solemn baccalaureate service - the crazy antics of Class Day - and the damp dyes of graduation. This class has had its share of honors. There are a good number who made the National Honor Society and a lot who won M.I.A awards for the National Merit Tests taken as juniors. Roberta Pinetta got a special commendation for her test results. Bobby Brown and Rod Marrow won acclaim on the basketball floor. A big percentage of the class has been accepted in various colleges and schools around the country.

We wish to thank all those (too numerous to list) who have taken an interest in us and helped us to get this far. Just imagine - Stearns graduates!
